HUNT MANIAC IN MURDER OF WOMAN NEAR NEWARK

Newark had its own version of the mysterious "Black Dahlia" murder this week, following discovery of the mutilated body of an Oakland woman in a beet patch on the Patterson Ranch.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Florastine Jones, 34, of 722 Adeline Street. Her corpse was found early Sunday at the foot of a levee road west of Marsh Road by Lupe Rocha, 506 Fifth Street, Decoto, a ranch worker. Evidently she had been tossed from a car.

Sheriff's Captain R. E. Condon likened the slaying to Los Angeles' brutal "Black Dahlia" murder of 1947. This case is still unsolved.

Mrs. Jones' slayers are the object of an intensive police hunt, centering in West Oakland, where she was last reported seen on Sunday in company with two men.

Condon said he believes Mrs. Jones to have been the victim of a maniac.

She was identified through fingerprints and later by a sister from Oakland who visited the morgue.

The body was garbed in a black rayon crepe dress, black underclothing and high-heeled suede pumps when Rocha first spotted it during his morning chores. He reported the grisly find to a foreman, Antone Cabral of Niles, who in turn called the sheriff's office.

Mrs. Jones reportedly lived at the Oakland address with one child and has three more with a former husband in Louisiana. She now is married to Reo Jones, a former soldier, but the couple is estranged.

NEWARKER KILLED AS CAR HITS DOG

Raymond White, 26, of 731 Ash Street, Newark, was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding with his brother overturned after hitting a dog on Thornton Avenue near Mayhew Landing Road.

Donald White, 24, the brother, of 236 North Main Street, Centerville, is in Fairmont Hospital as a result of the accident. He is in a critical condition with a fractured vertebrae, head injuries, broken wrist and other undetermined injuries.

An operation was performed on his back Tuesday evening and another will be performed later. Donald has a wife and two children, one 14 months and one 26 months of age.

Raymond is survived by his wife, from whom he was separated, and one child, Andrea Lynn, 6, of Stockton; his grandmother; and his mother, Mrs. Ruth Norceti, with whom he lived at the Ash Street address.

Yes or No? Doctors Debate Community Hospital Issue

On Tuesday, Washington Township voters will decide at the polls whether they want a 68-bed community hospital. The issues surrounding the hospital have been thrashed out in public, but because few people attend public meetings, this newspaper has opened its columns to a final word on the subject from the project's chief opponent and to its foremost backers.

Herewith we present two letters—one explaining the reasons for the opposition, and the second answering these arguments.

The first was sent to us for publication by Dr. Joseph Enos, proprietor of a Niles sanatorium... Since it was controversial in nature, and since this is the last publication date before the election, we declined to publish it unless the other side had a chance to answer it in the same issue of this newspaper. To this, Dr. Enos agreed.

Editor:

My heart grieves at the indifference and neglect by voters concerning elections that deal with Township officers and bond issues. Chambers of Commerce endorse measures with only a few members present. Only 30 people attended the Niles Chamber meeting on hospital bonds. There is danger we shall become subservient to the organized minority.

We have just passed bonds for sewers and the high school. They were necessary. So is the hospital. The question is—does the cost justify it?

I have been intimately connected with hospitals for 30 years. I ask myself: are we not already adequately cared for? There is the Hayward Hospital, the new Levine Hospital in Hayward, the big Castro Valley Hospital now under construction—all only a few minutes away. There are several hospitals in San Jose, and my own 2-year-old, 37-bed Mission Road Sanatorium in Niles.

I do not believe any patient from the Township has been denied a hospital bed. Personally, I have never seen in 32 years of practice of medicine, any patient lose his life because he didn't reach the hospital in time.

Will the Township Hospital have emergency care? No doctor will be on duty there at all times, and (since it is not to be a teaching hospital) no intern, either.

Is it a sound economic venture? Last August, two East Bay hospitals reported all departments in the red except pharmacy and x-ray. Many times, then, we may be called upon to pay the operating costs of the hospital.

As for building costs: the architect estimates $25,000 per bed. Modern Hospital Magazine shows hospitals built this year averaged only $12,290 per bed. My experience building here convinces me it should be no more than $17,000.

By purchasing the Mission Road Sanatorium, the Hospital Board could have had a complete modern 50-bed hospital for $600,000. But the doctors, for reasons best known to themselves, rejected the idea.

Two of the original hospital promoters told me that—even though it doesn't say so in writing—it was understood by the public that the State and Federal governments would help build the hospital. It was because of this understanding that the district was formed. Did the Board have a moral right to proceed and hire an architect without assurance of this aid?

The building of community hospitals is nothing less than socialism. They always cost more than private ones. Our taxes are mounting daily. Let us have a breathing spell, encourage new homes and industry to settle here. Then when we get government aid, we can tackle such a venture. Not now. Be sure to vote November 4.

JOSEPH B. ENOS, M.D., Niles.

Editor:

Charges such as Dr. Enos levels ought not to go unanswered in a democracy where truth and accuracy are a safeguard to freedom. Here is the truth, and here are the answers:

1. All other doctors in active practice in this Township are unanimously on record agreeing there is a great need for a local hospital. Existing facilities in Oakland and San Jose are dangerously far away, and crowded. Many local patients have been turned away.

2. All other doctors of this Township recommended against purchase of Dr. Enos' Mission Road Sanatorium, and were joined by the State Department of Public Health, on the grounds that it is a wood-frame building impossible to expand and unsuitable to convert for general hospital use. The owner offered to sell at $250,000—which would have given him a very handsome profit. But in addition, $500,000 would have been necessary to add surgeries, maternity and delivery rooms, sterilizing facilities. This still would have left no capacity for expansion.

3. The 30-bed Hayward Hospital has written local doctors informing them it can take no more Township patients: the Levine Hospital is a small private-specialist institution; Castro Valley Hospital, not to be finished for two years, is too small already; San Jose is overcrowded, and the Mission Road Sanitorium is a convalescent home—not licensed either for surgery, maternity, x-ray or emergency care.

4. Emergency care WILL be provided, with trained nurses always on duty and doctors on a few minutes' call.

5. District hospitals such as this one DO show a profit. Two weeks ago, at a meeting in Los Gatos, Edward Nichols, secretary of the State Association of District Hospitals, reported that of 19 such institutions in California, 18 are in the black.

As for building costs: the $25,000-per-bed statement is false. The proposed hospital will be licensed for 68 beds. The building will cost about $800,000. Divide 68 into that amount and you get $10,293 per bed. The entire project will cost around $1,250,000, including complete equipment and furnishings. Divide 68 into that and you still get only $18,353 per bed. Furthermore, when more beds are added to the "core" of the hospital as population here warrants it, the cost-per-bed will drop still lower, just as the cost of adding a bedroom to a home brings down the overall cost-per-square-foot.

6. There was never any mandate to wait for Federal aid before building. In 1948, local voters, 2800 to 500, approved the plan to finance the district out of property taxes.

7. The "socialism" argument is a phony. Nobody accuses our public schools of being socialistic, and this will be the same type of operation. If it is to be local control versus federal control, let the public decide which is more socialistic!

We say vote, too. Vote YES for the hospital bonds!

SUPERVISORS WITHHOLD ACTION ON NILES GRAVEL PIT UNTIL NOVEMBER 25

In a three-hour hearing yesterday, the Board of Supervisors set November 25 as D-Day for the Rhodes & Jamieson gravel pit at Niles.

"D" in this case stands for decision. The supervisors are considering whether to reverse the action of their subordinates, the county planning commissioners, who two weeks ago reversed THEMSELVES and gave R&J a permit to operate the pit.

"There'll be no more hearings," said Supervisor Chester E. Stanley at the end of yesterday's protracted argument between R&J's attorney and residents of Adobe Acres. "We'll confer with the Planning Commission, inspect the area in question, and then vote on the 25th."

Supervisor G. A. Janssen asked Flood Engineer Herb Crowell if the area "will look like Folsom, Pleasanton and the rest of Niles" when the digging is finished. Crowell could not reply.

Appearing from Niles were Dr. Lyle Buehler, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bendel, Mrs. Margaret Crane, W. D. Patterson, Mrs. Harold Korell and Attorney LeRoy Broun.

Dr. Buehler presented arguments he had earlier given to the local Chamber of Commerce, principally warning that more gravel digging will cause floods along Alameda Creek. Mrs. Crane said the pit will ruin home values southwest of Niles.

The day before the Planning Commission decided it cannot legally ask R&J to post a $10,000 bond the firm has offered to insure the pit will be neatly graded and landscaped after digging is finished.

However, the Commissioners placed in the permit provisions that R&J must fence and dike the pit, plant trees, keep dust down, stay 25 feet back from property dines, and haul only across Alameda Creek.

AGAINST GRAVEL PITS . . . Mrs. Lyle Buehler of Niles (holding map) appears before Alameda County Planning Commission in plea to prevent establishment of another gravel pit here. At a subsequent hearing, the commission reversed itself and okehed the pit asked by Rhodes & Jamieson. The latest decision went yesterday on appeal to the Board of Supervisors. Facing Mrs. Buehler are (left to right) Commissioners John Gardella, Michael Markovitz, P. J. DeBernardi, Fred Mellmann and George Dugan. (Register Photo)

Expect Big Turnout For Tuesday Election

Washington Township voters in record numbers are expected to troop to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots for presidential candidates, two dozen State proposals, and a $1,500,000 local hospital bond issue.

Latest figures from County Clerk John Joseph Kingston show 8797 registered in the Niles-Centerville Judicial District, which includes the entire Township.

According to Kingston's office, this total includes:

Democrats	5334
Republicans	3176
Non-Partisan	281
Independents	3
Prohibition	2
Independent-Progressive	1

Kingston has arranged to station one of his deputies in the sheriff's substation in Centerville to handle any questions arising on Election Day.

This deputy will be in contact with Kingston's office in Oakland at all times, and may be reached locally by telephoning Niles 4606 or Centerville 8-8371.

Meantime, complains about misprecincting continue to plague local officialdom. The latest came Monday before the Centerville Chamber of Commerce. Edgar Van Scoy addressed it to Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, a luncheon guest. Said Van Scoy:

"Husbands are put in one precinct, wives in another. Then the county clerk's office says it can't do anything about it, and to see our supervisor."

Stanley replied the blame falls partly on registrars here who get wrong or incomplete addresses (such as post office boxes and not residence locations) and upon non-conscientious civil service help in Kingston's office.

"I suggest the local chambers of commerce prevail upon the election boards this time to make a record of the complaints at the precincts and pass them on to me," he asserted.

CRASH FATAL TO NEWARK BRIDE, 19

Mrs. Myrtle Gularte, 19, of Newark, was killed in a truck-auto accident Wednesday afternoon on the highway one mile north of Milpitas.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Theodora Moura, 38, San Jose, suffered a back injury in the same accident.

Mrs. Gularte, traveling north, apparently tried to pass a truck, changed her mind, and in pulling back, struck the rear of the truck, driven by Thomas R. Logan, 47, San Leandro.

Mrs. Gularte's car flipped over onto the southbound lane into the path of a car driven by Lee Allan Walton, 17, of Centerville, the force of the impact ramming both cars into the ditch. Walton suffered a broken wrist.

Mrs. Gularte was married August 31 of this year to Daniel Gularte of Newark. The couple were residing in San Jose while Daniel attended San Jose State.

Mrs. Gularte was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown, Oakdale; sister of Eleanor and Joseph Brown Jr., of Oakdale; granddaughter of Mrs. Julia Payne, Gilroy, and Mrs. Manuel Brown of Pleasanton.

She was a native of San Jose; a member of the Mater Christe Institute of the YLI of Oakdale.

NILES CC DELAYS BELLINI REQUEST

Arnold Bellini's request to excavate his highway frontage north of Niles must wait until the local Chamber of Commerce knows more about his plans.

This ruling was announced Wednesday by the County Planning Commission, to which Bellini addressed his plea.

The planners assured Bellini he can apply again later. They took note of the Chamber request to defer action until more is known of Bellini's plans. In his application, he said he wants to erect buildings on the site.

A request to zone the land between Niles and Decoto.

YOUNGSTERS FIND $110 FOR OWNER

An Oakland contractor this week had cause to thank three Decoto school children for the return of $110 in currency.

The mony, lying loose in front of 101 Eighth Street, was picked up Wednesday en route to Barnard School by Cecelia Chavez, 10, of 116 Ninth Street; Judith Garcia, of 105 Ninth Street, and Louis Gouvea, 11, of 134 Ninth Street.

They took the $50 bill and the three $20s to their fifth grade teacher, Neal Kauffman. He turned it over to Principal Kenneth G. Crump, who notified sheriff's officers.

The deputies traced the currency to Robert C. Lange of 1433 78th Avenue, Oakland, who said he had lost it the previous night while visiting at the Decoto address. The money was restored to Lange.

CENTERVILLE PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR LEAVING TO ACCEPT NEVADA PULPIT

Centerville learned this week it is losing one of its most popular and influential young civic and religious leaders with departure of the Rev. Howard Steward from Centerville Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Mr. Steward announced today he is resigning, effective November 23, to accept the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church of Carson City, Nevada.

In his new capacity, he will also serve as chaplain to the Nevada State Legislature, since Carson City is the State capital; and to the Nevada State penitentiary, also located there.

Mr. Steward, his wife Ruth, and their daughters, Jeanette and Rebecca, came to Centerville in February, 1949. At that time, the Centerville Presbyterian Church, oldest of its denomination in California to occupy its original location, had a mere 25 members.

Sunday School pupils also numbered about 25.

Today the church has 148 members and a Sunday School of 125 children... In addition, it has (1) a new $15,000 manse for the pastor, (2) a new $2000 organ, (3) an 18-voice Centerian Choir, and (4) a Youth Fellowship Society of 25 members.

No successor has been selected for the Rev. Mr. Steward. The congregation on November 6 will elect a pulpit committee to find a new minister.

Meantime, plans went ahead to construct a new church and recreation hall for the congregation, under guidance of a committee headed by Joseph Clothier.

The committee this week is to select an architect for the 450-capacity recreation unit and for the 500-seat church. The present church, founded June 5, 1853, seats only 135.

The Rev. Mr. Steward served in Europe as an enlisted man during World War II, then graduated successfully from Pepperdine College and the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Said he today:

"It is with regret that we leave the Township, but we are certain the gains achieved in the Church will be lasting as the members work and co-operate."

GREEN SHIPPING TOMATOES PROBED

Fall tomatoes, picked green for eastern shipment, are under study at the University of California College of Agriculture to find out how tempteratures affect ripening. This project, now in its fourth year, is in cooperation with the US Department of Agriculture.

Preliminary results show that shipping temperatures between 55 degrees and 60 degrees Fahrenheit will result in higher quality tomatoes for eastern markets. Also, tomatoes suffering from too many nights below 50 degrees before harvest don't ripen normally.

Leonard L. Morris, UC department of vegetable crops, is studying the effect on ripening of temperatures in the tomato fields and during simulated shipment. Day and night readings are taken under the vines, 10 inches above the ground, and five feet above the ground. Sample lugs of green tomatoes are put in special rooms under the same temperatures and for the same period they would be subjected to when shipped east in refrigerator cars. After this simulated shipping period, the lugs are placed in ripening rooms where the fruit is studied for ripening behavior and development of chilling injury.

Also cooperating in this study are various California growers and shippers and eastern receivers. These cooperators and the USDA are studying actual transit temperatures across country and the effect on fruit ripening. These results will be correlated with data obtained from those tomatoes kept at Davis.

NITROGEN MAKES 'EM GROW: BENSON

What vegetables respond well to fertilizer treatments? This is a question to which no general answer for the entire state can be given. However, trials in Alameda County by the farm advisors show what can be expected there, says Lee Benson, farm advisor.

These trials indicate that tomatoes have given response to nitrogen fertilizer treatment in this county.

Spinach has responded consistently to fertilizer treatments of nitrogen. Increased yields of peas have followed applications of phosphoric acid, in some instances. The use of nitrogen in addition to the phosphoric acid has given slight yield increases.

Lettuce, cauliflower and onions have responded to fertilizer treatments of nitrogen in most tests.

The tests also indicated that placing the fertilizer in a band near the plant or seed at the time of planting or shortly thereafter is important, particularly on short season crops. Fertilizer on transplants give the most response as soon as possible after field planting, Benson adds.

Australia will produce 35,000,000 gallons of wine this year.

Democrats and Republicans, labor, business and farmers —they all say: "No matter how deeply you differ on election day over candidates and other ballot issues—whatever you do, vote 'YES' on PROPOSITION 2!"

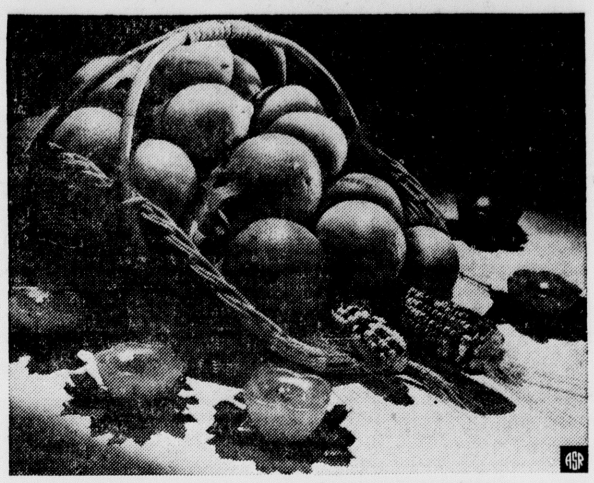
Citrus Basket For Autumn Decoration



Colorful table decorations that are seasonal, simple and stunning are called for now. A basket piled high with oranges and lemons, with some turning leaves tucked in between gives a festive atmosphere to your dining table.

You could use almost any shape or size of basket that you have on hand. The one illustrated uses about eight large California oranges with several lemons. A few autumn leaves, two ears of corn and several stalks of wheat are added for balance. Their warm tan and brown colors enhance the yellow and orange shades of the citrus fruit. For a finishing touch, surround the fruit-filled basket with low candles placed on brown leaves.

Both beautiful and tempting, this centerpiece is practical, too—the fruit can be used for eating, just pick-up style or in recipes. As the oranges are eaten, you can replenish the basket from your refrigerator. Oranges and lemons keep well at room temperature. When you are ready to change the centerpiece, cut up the oranges for salads or snacks, use the lemons in pies, puddings, or sauces.

Smaller baskets can be arranged on end tables, within easy reach of fruit-hungry guests. Bowls of fruit and nuts to eat casually near the TV or fireplace give a feeling of warm hospitality this time of year.

MAKE-IT-YOURSELF ICE CREAM TREATS

by the General Electric Consumers Institute

Summer desserts should look — as well as taste—cool and refreshing. And what looks cooler than ice cream?

With a supply of vanilla ice cream on hand in your freezer or refrigerator freezing compartment, you have the basis for a variety of delicious homemade ice cream surprises for the family.

Buttercrisp Ice Cream

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

½ cup crisp rice cereal crumbs
2½ tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup walnuts, chopped
1½ tablespoons butter
1 pint vanilla ice cream (2 cups)

Mix crumbs, brown sugar and nuts. Melt butter in skillet on a high heat. Switch to a medium heat, add crumb mixture and cook, stirring occasionally, until mixture is crisp, about 6-7 minutes. Cool. Place ice cream in small mixer bowl. Using 2 front beaters, beat at a low speed (Speed 2) until ice cream is smooth. Fold crumb mixture into ice cream. Pour into ice tray in freezer compartment of refrigerator or in food freezer. Freeze firm. Makes 4-6 servings.

Ice Cream Revel

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

1 pint firm vanilla ice cream
½-½ cup medium thin sauce or ¾ cup well mashed, drained fruit

Place ice cream in small mixer bowl. Using 2 front beaters, beat at a low speed (Speed 2) until smooth. Spread evenly in ice tray. Pour sauce or fruit over top of ice cream and with spoon fold sauce into ice cream, distributing unevenly. Place ice tray in freezer compartment of refrigerator or in food freezer; freeze firm. Leave at room temperature 5-10 minutes before serving. Makes 4-6 servings.

For variety, try:

CHOCOLATE OR BUTTERSCOTCH REVEL: Use ½ cup chocolate or butterscotch sauce and revel as above.

STRAWBERRY, RASPBERRY OR PEACH REVEL: Use 12-16 ounce package frozen fruit. Thaw fruit completely first, drain, then mash. If using fresh fruit, mash fruit, drain, then measure ¾ cup and revel as above.

Peppermint Candy Sauce

Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute

½ cup water

Place 1½ cups candy and water in small saucepan. Cover. Bring to boil on a high heat, then switch to a low heat and continue cooking until candy is melted and mixture thickens slightly, about 18 minutes. Remove from unit. Cool slightly, then chill until mixture thickens. Add 2 tablespoons of candy and serve on ice cream. Makes ⅞ cup.

ONE FLYBOY FATE WORSE THAN JAIL

The Air Force doesn't need Santa Rita jail farm—it has more effective means of punishment, according to Niles' Dr. Tom Wilson.

Wilson propelled past the Niles Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday a resolution asking that the military leave part of the farm for county penal purposes. The Air Force has indicated it wants to take back the onetime base and add it to Camp Parks. Then declared the wartime Air Force captain:

"The Air Force doesn't need Santa Rita. It doesn't put kids in jail. It just ships them to the infantry!"

NILES NIMROD IS VICTOR IN DELTA BASS CONTEST

By STUART NIXON

How does it feel to land a 38¼-pound striped bass and win a major fishing derby?

Les Gray, 155 G Street, Niles, has the answer to that one this week.

Gray copped first place in the big annual Bethel Island bass derby with a mammoth striper of that weight, and incidentally receipted for some $200 in prizes—mostly fishing tackle and equipment.

Gray, a ruddy-faced, bespectacled construction worker, likes to spend his week-ends on the San Joaquin River when he can. But never has he spent such a profitable one, he tells you.

"Here we were, hundreds of boats, fishing on Frank's Tract (a flooded area) when I got this strike," Gray relates. "I set the hook and let him wear himself out for awhile.

"Finally he came up and I saw his back and my gosh! he was this long."

Gray stretches his arms even farther than the fisherman who tells you about the One That Got Away. Only this one didn't. Gray landed him in about 25 minutes, he says, and collected his trophies.

These include a tackle box with about $50 worth of tackle, a dip net, a boat stove, a glass rod and a reel, and plenty more.

HUSKIES DROP MT. VIEW, 13-6, TO TOP S.C.V.A.L. AGAIN; BELLARMINE NEXT

By BOB HIRD

Washington High Huskies got back on the victory trail Friday night as they blasted the Eagles from Mountain View 13-6 on the local gridiron.

The Huskies, by virtue of their victory, climbed back into first place as Los Gatos upset favored Fremont 19-13. Only other content in the SCVAL found the James Lick Comets stopping the Campbell Buccaneers 24-7. Santa Clara Panthers defeated the Poly Hi Reserves 14-0 in a practice tilt.

The League leaders (that's the Huskies) were the first to tally after a 49-yard drive sparked by the running of John Chacon and Frank Murakami. Quarterback Dave Marin went over the one-yard line on a quarterback sneak.

Murakami picked up the largest chunk of dirt during the drive. He circled right end for 12 yards to put the Huskies on the Eagle 6. Ed Valles missed the try for extra point.

The Eagles knotted the contest late in the second period when, after driving from their own 34, their ace tailback, Skip Anderson, a transfer from Panama, bullied his way over from the two. Anderson sparked the Eagle drive with his accurate passing and hard running.

With the score 6-6, the Huskies' other quarterback, Phil Pineda, recovered a fumble on the Eagle 32 with 45 seconds remaining in the third quarter. Passes from Chacon to Murakami and Raul Orozco, and an end sweep by Frank Galvan placed the ball on the Eagles' two as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the fourth period, Chacon pushed his way over from the two for the Huskies' winning touchdown. Valles added the extra point, and the scoring ended, 13-6.

Chacon, proving he is equally good a passer as a runner, completed 6 out of 12 tosses for 70 yards during the evening.

The Husky defense, providing a cue for the University of Southern California, stopped the Eagles three times inside the 15. Bob Brazil, Rod Hendricks and Clarence Souza were usually in on the tackles.

Although winning, the Huskies suffered two more serious injuries as Carl Von Euw, rugged defensive end, had to leave the game in the second quarter due to a back injury, and Marin, who tallied the first T.D., suffered a hip pointer.

Tonight Washington will entertain the Bellarmine Bells in a non-conference tilt starting at 8 p.m.

PUPPIES SHELLAC MT. VIEW B's, 27-0

The win gave the Puppies a 2-won, 1-lost record in league play.

The Washington eleven took to the air early in the first quarter. Ed Fletcher flipped a ten-yard pass to Frank Velarde for a touchdown. Don Leach converted.

The Puppies added their second touchdown in the second period on a 25-yard pass from Archie Delao to Dan Davis. Leach added the extra point.

Early in the fourt period, the Puppies took the ball on their own 32 and drive to the Eagles' 5. From there Fletcher skirted right end for the tally. Leach's kick was blocked.

The local club's final tally came with 10 seconds remaining in the game on a beautiful pass play that covered 50 yards from Delao to Ray Orozco. Leach's kick was good.

The Puppies thus racked up the third victory of the season.

Delao and Fletcher sparked on offense, while Davis, Con Preciado, Rich Martinez and Frank Martin were standouts on defense.

The Puppies face the Bellarmine Bs tonight in a non-league encounter, starting at 6 p.m.

SMASH BOTH McLAIN SCHEMES

George H. McLain, the perennial pension promoter who finances his operations by ruthless appeals to pensioners for a "cut" each month from their pension payments—he even asks old people to send him their gold jewelry and keepsakes—is back on the ballot this year with TWO unsavory schemes.

McLAIN's PROPOSITION NO. 10 is a blackjack scheme. It seeks to penalize all the fine civic groups and organizations that have fought his unsound schemes in the past, by denying use of public funds for Chamber of Commerce and tourist promotion activities, 4-H Club youthbuilding work, Veterans' Rehabilitation programs, Labor Day observances sponsored by labor unions, school trustee organization work, and other useful, beneficial purposes. Proposition No. 10 is vicious and senseless.

McLAIN's PROPOSITION NO. 11 is a re-hash of the old McLain Pension Scheme adopted by a narrow margin in 1948 and overwhelmingly repealed the following year, after it had sent pension administration costs soaring to fantastic heights. Once again, Proposition No. 11 would transfer the responsibility for determining pension eligibility and disbursing pension funds from local governments to one State Bureau. It is a scheme to achieve vast political power by creating a political pension dictatorship.

TV NEWS

By WES SEARS

To give our customers a wider selection in TV sets, we added two new lines this week: DuMont and Zenith. Now you can pick out the set you want from five of the nation's finest brand names. Besides DuMont and Zenith, we carry RCA-Victor, Admiral and Hoffman.

While we're in the Numbers game . . .

Did you know you can always get the top ten at Sears & Houston—the top 10 tunes of the week, that is. Sears now carries the records that head the Hit Parade each week, and you don't have to drive to Oakland to get them any more.

Also in the record line: recommended records for children and your favorite Western laments are available for your listening pleasure at Sears & Houston. Swing it, you buckaroos!

If we were slow getting around to you last week, it was because one of our trio of service experts was on vacation. Please forgive us. We promise to edge back into the win column this week and take your balky TV or radio set with us. Does that set flutter or clabber up like snow over the Wichitas? Let our wizards (jg) tend to it.

The Little Man Who Isn't Here: our service technician who leaves early in the morning and stays out all day fixing TV and radio sets. We forget what he looks like. He's just never home.

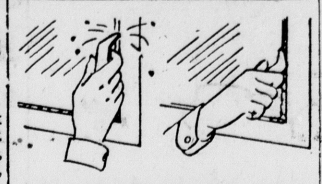
Handy Hints



An ordinary beer-can opener makes about the best putty knife you can find. Use the sharp point (left) to scrape away the old putty and any other foreign matter. Then turn the opener over (right) to shape and smooth the new putty. First, roll the putty into a slender roll . . . about the size of a lead pencil. Press it in position . . . and shape it with the back of your opener.

FAMILY RECIPE FOUNDATION FOR NEW SALAD DRESSING PLANT IN NILES

By STUART NIXON

Great oaks from little acorns grow, the saying goes. In Niles, Nora Lee Abney's version of the American Dream is pinned on her grandmother's salad dressing.

Mrs. Abney, who with her husband operates the Candle Light Cafe, thinks she may be on the verge of big business through marketing a piquant type of French dressing, the recipe for which she learned from her grandmother in Kentucky.

Already the Abneys have started a junior-grade factory in a garage at 624 Second Street. The dressing is mixed there on a spare-time basis by the Abney's eight sons and daughters and their wives and husbands.

Put up in modernistic telescope-shaped bottles with bright blue-and-gold labels, it already is being sold as "Nora Lee's French Dressing" in several chain groceries and a dozen Township stores.

"Customers gave me the idea," Mrs. Abney says. "We've been using the dressing in our place ever since we came to Niles six years ago. I didn't think about selling it until so many of our customers told me we ought to."

One customer, a friendly federal Food and Drug inspector from San Francisco, was particularly enthusiastic. He thinks the Abneys ought to order a million bottles and go into the venture on a big scale. But Mrs. Abney and her husband want to go slow for awhile. They ordered 8000 bottles from a San Jose firm, and now they want to see how they sell before going in deeper.

The dressing contains cottonseed oil, vinegar, sugar, spices, horseradish, eggs and salt, according to the label. But in what quantities, and how mixed—that's Mrs. Abney's family secret.

First inkling that it might be unusual enough to appeal to the general public came in 1951 when the dressing took a blue ribbon at the Alameda County Fair.

Latest developments in Niles' French dressing boom include a promise to feature the product on a San Francisco TV show, and a number of inquiries from additional chain stores.

Mrs. Abney seems unruffled by it all. Tending the stove in the kitchen at the Candle Light, she says:

"If it goes over, that'll be fine."

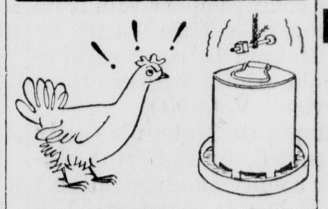
Handy Hints



Having trouble with hens roosting on water fountains, or self feeders? Then try this Handy Hint: Suspend a bolt—(a heavy nut, hoop, or piece of metal will do)—from the ceiling until it hangs like a plumb bob directly over the fountain.

When a hen tries to fly up on top of the fountain, she bumps into the weight—and she's promptly discouraged. She won't hold her perch long, even if she gets a foothold, because of the swinging weight.

THE BALLOT AMENDMENTS

As usual, next Tuesday's ballot contains enough propositions to stagger Marilyn Monroe. We can't claim to be expert on all 26 which Washington Township voters will see; there just isn't time in this business to investigate every one of them thoroughly. But at least we have read them and have studied the carefully-prepared report of San Francisco's Commonwealth Club. If anyone can pierce the propaganda befogging the "props," we think this group can.

Therefore as a guide to voters who have less time to study these important measures, we present our recommendations, based on Commonwealth Club studies, and modified in some cases:

Proposition 1 ($150,000,000 bond issue for State home loans to GI's): Financing needed. Past ones have paid their way. Vote YES.

Proposition 2 (Writes into State Constitution an increase in State school aid from $120 to $180 per pupil per year): Bad law to freeze amount into Constitution; but California public schools are desperate for funds. Vote YES.

Proposition 3 (Extends non-profit religious college tax-exemption to elementary and high schools.) Again, bad legal principal. On the practical side, parochial schools help lift the burden from crowded public schools, and the cost of the measure is relatively small, about $700,000 over the whole state. Vote YES.

Proposition 4 (Permits other needy members of blind pensioners' families to obtain maximum State aid allowed them.) Vote YES.

Proposition 5 (Prohibits subversives from holding State office or receiving GI tax exemptions): Would promote witch-hunts, invade personal freedoms, and catch no Communists anyway. Vote NO.

Proposition 6 (Requires State officials to take oath they don't belong to subversive groups.) More ineffectual nonsense—see above. Vote NO.

Proposition 7 (Requires candidates' registered party affiliation to appear on primary and general election ballots.) A better alternative to the anti-crossfiling amendment (Proposition 13). Vote YES.

Proposition 8 (Extends tax emeptions to churches while under construction): Illogical to tax while being built and exempt afterward. Vote YES.

Proposition 9 (Ditto above, for non-profit colleges): Same argument. Vote YES.

Proposition 10 (Prohibits county supervisors from supporting chambers of commerce): This is a try by Pension Promoter George McLain to revenge himself on his opponents. Would cripple organizations which perform valuable service. Vote NO.

Proposition 11 (Would duplicate McLain's costly 1948 pension plan, since repealed, by removing old-age assistance program from county administration.) Extra cost: $100,000,000. Value to oldsters: Nil. Vote NO.

Proposition 12 (Allows State officials to serve in reserve military forces). Vote YES.

Proposition 13 (Repeals crossfiling system): Since 1913, Californians have been able to vote for the best man for the job, regardless of party affiliation. This has helped eliminate State political bosses. Vote NO.

Proposition 14 (Repeals outmoded restrictions on Chinese immigrants). Vote YES.

Proposition 15 (Allows State to tax cars owned by insurance firms and banks). Vote YES.

Proposition 16 (Allows cities to establish borough governments with special powers). Vote YES.

Proposition 17 (Changes laws governing chiropractors). More confusion, some lowering of standards. Vote NO.

Proposition 18 (Encourages slum clearance and redevelopment). Vote YES.

Proposition 19 (Provides for more holdover grand jurors). Promotes experience on grand juries. Vote YES.

Proposition 20 (Permits non-profit private hospitals—such as the one contemplated in Washington Township—to receive State as well as Federal funds). Vote YES.

Proposition 21 (Requires faster election of superior judges to succeed those who die or retire). Vote YES.

Proposition 2' (Permits filing property-tax statements by mail). Vote YES.

Proposition 23 (Eliminates old-fashioned restriction on including more than one section of land in one property-tax assessment). Vote YES.

Proposition 24 (Authorizes State bond issue of $185,000,000 for schoolhouse construction). Would help overcrowded districts, like Niles and Decoto. Vote YES.

Proposition A (Would require legal and medical training for Alameda County Coroner, make the job appointive by supervisors): Follows recommendation of government expert, improves efficiency. Vote YES.

Proposition B (Authorizes $1,250,000 bond issue to build Washington Township Hospital): Hospital is needed today, will be needed more in the near future. Cost appears high, however, and should be revised downward before proceeding. Vote YES.

Red Cross Notes

By MAE LEGRO

Activities of Washington Township Red Cross Chapter continue throughout the month with local women assisting the staff at Camp Parks Airbase in the Blood Bank Center, in the Camp Parks Hospital, at Livermore Veterans Hospital and the Red Cross office in Hayward. Several local women are spending at least one day a week in these worthy projects.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Carol Svoboda, Mrs. Mabel Olsen and Mrs. Fay Van Ophem of Niles assisted the staff of the Camp Parks Blood Bank. The same day Mrs. Nellie Talley headed a group of local Gray Ladies who performed duty at the Camp Parks Hospital. More volunteers are needed for these programs, particularly staff aides who should be able to do simple typing and clerical work. Anyone willing to contribute some time to this very worthy effort should contact Mrs. Carol Svoboda, telephone Niles 7762, or Mrs. Ann Mayock, Irvington 20.

Oakland Chapter and branches will hold their annual dinner on November 6 at the Chapter House, Oakland. Reservations can be made through Mrs. Svoboda.

CRUSADE OVER QUOTA IN TOWNSHIP WITH ESTIMATED $30,000 DONATED

Washington Township put its share of the United Crusade over the top with a record-shattering $30,000 collected, Campaign Chairman Maurice Marks reported this week.

Marks told the Niles Chamber of Commerce that cleanup solicitation will continue, but that the major portion of the drive is over here. The overall Crusade is at the 92 per cent mark.

His unofficial "goal" of $20,000 for this region was exceeded by 50 per cent, Marks declared, thanking his 150 workers for their efforts.

Niles alone contributed more than $13,000, the chairman estimated. Industries accounted for two-thirds of the total.

Due to the fact that the heavy industry donations are sent to Crusade headquarters in Oakland, an accurate total cannot be obtained immediately, Marks explained.

Residential teams had turned in $7300 by last week-end, he reported, and another $1800 had been gathered but not turned over. With this money and with last-minute donations from individuals, Marks said he expects the residential total to hit $10,000.

He urged anyone who has not been contacted to call him and promised a solicitor will call at once.

Highest previous collection in the Township for Community Chest and allied agencies was under $20,000. The Crusade combines the Chest and six other major charities in a single appeal.

Editor:

In concluding an enterprise like the United Crusade where so many folks gave so freely of their time and money, a sad note is struck, for there will be no more of the excitement that goes with such a drive—no more meetings — no more interviews — no more collections. The collections are practically all in and many thanks to those who did the work. Particularly will I miss the talks I have had with you concerning our progress.

The articles you published and free space you devoted to the United Crusade went a long way in making this drive an overwhelming success.

Thanks for everything.

United Crusade.

SPEAKING CLASS OPEN AT NITE HI

A small, enthusiastic group of adults has been attending an evening high school public speaking class being held at the Washington Evening High School. An increase in enrollment is necessary to insure the continuance of this course which offers valuable training and experience in speaking, according to Warren E. Gravestock, principal.

"This course is slanted to meet the needs of those who are called upon to speak in public (civic groups, P.T.A., lodge groups), those who would like to gain poise and those whose job requires them to meet the public," Gravestock explains. He adds:

"Anyone interested in a course that offers recreation as well as valuable training should contact the Washington Evening High School immediately and plan to attend the next meeting to be held Monday, November 3, at 8 p.m."

STANLEY SEES CO. FLOOD CURB HERE

A county-sponsored bond issue may be necessary to get stop-gap flood control for land periodically inundated by Alameda Creek, Supervisor Chester Stanley told the Centerville Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Stanley said Army engineer officers were "impressed" with a citizen turnout here last week at a flood control meeting. But, added Stanley, around $8,000,000 will be needed for eventual curbing of the creek between its sources and the Bay beyond Alvarado.

Since federal funds may be a long time coming, the supervisor continued, an Alameda County flood control district probably will have to be formed in the area "to relieve the pressure in the meantime."

STEEL WORKERS BACK ON JOBS

The Pacific States Steel mill at Niles, shut down since one week ago Wednesday in a dispute over jobs handled by CIO union members, was back in operation Monday.

Oscar Dowe, personnel officer at the mill, said management and the United States Steel Workers "settled our differences," but declined to elaborate.

Leon Curtis, union president, could not be reached for comment. The CIO workers walked off Wednesday in a reported disagreement over who should clean furnaces.

Curtis earlier gave partial confirmation of this report, saying "some were ordered to do the work of others who have been laid off."

The American Forge plant, next to Pacific States, was not affected by the dispute and remained in operation.

After the Civil War, veterans were given special privileges making it easier for them to obtain lands under the public land law.

Victim is Ignacio M. Amaya, 30, of 530 Mulberry, Alvarado. He was found bleeding profusely from a knife wound in the ribs on Saturday night in front of El Diamante, an Alvarado cafe.

Vidales subsequently was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and will be arraigned today. The others were released.
